The Editors Page

We are proud to say here we are again and so pleased to see that our club is almost two years old now and growing. With this and members participation our little paper is growing. We now have correspondence with several other clubs and an exchange of information and publications starting up. We are now trading information with other Canadian Clubs. These Clubs Have stated that we are welcome at their events if anyone of us are travelling there. (for more information check the new classified section).

We also wish to invite all to submit articles, photos and profiles for our magazine. We can accept these as single line type written pages, IBM computer disks, or computer modems to the Edmonton phone number. For those with computers we will be setting up places to call for sending stories, for those who do not we must ask for type written articles... So get it together and send in those articles!!

But remember all submissions must be in 15 days prior to the next issue

You are cordially invited to our second Gala Birthday Party!!

We will be having an evening of events that you'll never forget! On this night our reigning Illusions Empress and her Princesses step down as we select new royalty to step into their heels and assume their positions to honor and represent our fine social club.

The evening will include Live Music, a Talent Show, Lyp Sync, cake and presents and will conclude with the choosing of the 1992 Illusions Empress and her first and second Princess.

The evening will start with doors opening at 7:30 pm. Those competing for positions of Royalty will do a walk at 9:30 pm with Showtime at 10:00 pm. Birthday cake and gift exchange after the show and a final walk of the contestants before judging. The evening will conclude with the selection and crowning of the 1992 Empress and Princesses.

We request all participants to bring a wrapped gift (approx $10 value) for the gift exchange.

Tickets are $10 per person in advance ($15 at door), available from Barbie. Please purchase your tickets early so that we can determine how many will be attending and plan appropriately.

Don't miss the Gala Event of the Year! Your participation will help make the evening a great success!

Note: Anyone wishing to enter the competition must notify Barbie no later than the May meeting. Anyone wishing to do a show but not wishing to run for a position of Royalty are welcome to do so.

Sex, Lies and Misconceptions

If you have been blessed with a cross-gender personality, then you have probably felt some confusion about yourself at various times. Attempting to find the answers can be difficult. I have found most information is too technical, too vague or just too silly. More importantly, in my quest to understand myself and others like me, I have discovered that a number of misconceptions are all too frequently disguised as truth. I would like to share with you a few of my favourites.

All humans are born female.

I was really excited when I first heard this one. Wow! I thought, I'm really supposed to be female. This is not really true. The developing fetus at 4 or 5 weeks has two sets of very simple sex organs. In the absence of male sex hormones, the fetus will develop in a female direction. If the fetus is a g e n e t i c female then it will, of course, develop as a normal female. On the other hand, if the fetus is a genetic male and the male hormones are not present or ineffective for some reason, then the fetus may develop as a female but will be sterile. If normal male hormones are present then a genetic male fetus develops as a normal male, but if male hormones are present with a genetic female fetus then the baby may be male in appearance but would be sterile as an adult.

Brains are either male or female.

This idea is quite controversial at the moment. There are many studies indicating that several regions of the brain in males differ from those in females. This is not unexpected because the sexes differ anatomically and physiologically in many ways. What does cause the commotion is that the behavioural differences can be explained by physical differences in the brain. Recently, a report has suggested that some homosexual men differ physically from their heterosexual counterparts in an area of the brain associated with sexual behaviour. Unfortunately there is a lot of variability in these findings, so the significance of this research is not clear. Many studies with animals would tend to support the human studies. However, the psychological experience of humans seem to override their genetic and physiological programming. Again, it is not clear whether these animal studies can be related directly to the human studies. The jury is still out on this one.

Only 100% males and females exist.

I grew up with this one. Actually, I don't even know what a 100% male is. Even Rambo had some questionable qualities. The development of either sex is an incredibly complex interaction between the genes of the fetus, and the environment in the uterus. The latter is directly affected by the health, lifestyle and genetic makeup of the mother. Because we really don't know what attributes are exclusively male or female, it is impossible to identify a 100% male or female individual. But the reality is, of course, that there are so many physical factors that define the sexual development, that a 100% male or female could never exist anyway. On the other hand, because of the complexity of fetal development, almost any intersex state that can be imagined probably occurs in nature.

Intergender behaviour is unnatural.

I never really know what is meant by 'unnatural'. However female mimicry has been documented in species of insects, fishes, reptiles and mammals including non-human primates. The reasons for such behaviours are speculative. But whatever the reason, such intergender behaviour does appear to be present throughout the animal kingdom.

Male hormones will cure you.

Sadly, some people still believe this. There has been no consistent evidence that male hormone supplements will produce stereotyped male behaviour in a person who does not wish to show this behaviour.

I strongly suspect there still are many other misconceptions out there. These are certainly the ones I hear again and again. If you are unsure of any information you hear about, write me and I will try to get you an answer.

In the next issue I will explore the actions of sex hormones. If you are wondering if you would benefit from hormonal supplements you may find the next column of interest.

Darbi Trenton is a post-doctoral researcher who specializes in how the brain controls hormones associated with reproduction, growth and development. Darbi is currently working at the University of Alberta.

Michelle #220

Hi there girls! Hope all of you are doing excellent! This is my first time regarding any type of a profile on myself, so you will have to excuse the slow beginning.

I joined the club hoping to meet people with similar lifestyles as my own. I've only been able to attend a couple of club functions resulting from my hours of employment. Now I don't sound so much like a airhead!!! Just kidding! Now I should tell you a little about myself.

I am, therefore, I do exist! I am a cool and level headed transsexual with a body to kill (no pun intended, ha ha!). I am thirty... ah, I've forgotten... petite, long straight hair, medium brown with green/grey eyes, fairly attractive (with make-up), and enjoy the company of others.

I like most forms of music as I enjoy dancing. I enjoy strumming (6-string guitar) with friends as well as videos.

I like all forms of art. I enjoy involving my artistic persona in for form of landscape paintings using many different techniques and medlums. Oils are my favorite with acrylic's being second.

I can sometimes be found cycling around Edmonton's cycling trails seeking out fresh air (sorry, haven't found any yet! ha ha). So if you're in Edmonton some time, make sure you bring along your bike. The sights are wondrous because the majority of the bike trail's are in the River Valley.

I've been a transsexual longer than I can remember. My first memory of crossdressing was before elementary school. Since then, I've learned that being who I am doesn't matter to anybody, except myself. As a wise woman once said, "he who holds the apple can eat it, but must first check for worm!" I suppose you all presumed I've either swallowed one already, or I made it up! Well, I'm not sure, but you would all love to meet that woman who said that! I can't lie, it was I.

Well, I don't know what else to say... so good-bye for now and hope to meet some of you in the near future, or write me. I don't bite, well not that hard anyways... Aufwiedersehn, and see you at the next meet!

Sincerely,

Michelle

Effective Immediately Illusions meetings for the summer months: Sat June 13/92 (Birthday Party!) - No Thurs month end meeting Sat July 11/92 - No Thurs month end meeting Sat Aug 15/92 - No Thurs month end meeting. As the Saturday Entertainment Nights have become more popular, and the fact that nightfall is happening later in the evenings, the Thursday nights attendance has been low and therefore un-economical to continue the weeknight meetings at this point. We will assuredly resume the Thursday night socials starting sometime in the autumn when nightfall begins earlier and hopefully attendance picks up enough to warrant continuing a monthly weeknight meeting. Barbie & Bryan

The Dragline . . .

Hey ho, how's it going? Terri and Amanda here! God are we burnt, what a month!!! So much happening with social events at the club, Maddisons, Boys Town and the I.S.S.C.A. Ball. Here's the scope on a lot more poop.....Zzaa Ball...The gay society of cowtown has a new Emperor - Mr. Little John and a new Empress Sereta. A tip of the hat goes to Mr. Tiffany Lawrence and Kris the Kaiser (the wuzzies) that definately represented Calgary beautifully. All the best to the new gang and Court. Never a dull moment at the Highlander (especially with Club Calgary nearby)! Way to go Illusions gals for a flawless entrance! Karen - you shouldn't be scared! Ms. Stephanie - you looked great! To

Barbie & Bryan - again an excellent job! Congrats to Boystown for winning first place for intown entrances! Terri sure can kick high, huh?! Lookin' good Kiwi! Rocky Horror! Ah, its just a jump to the left and a step in the right direction at Boystown Metro on May 17. Yes it was the Rocky Horror Picture Show and it was executed stupendously by Flo, Trashy, Kiwi, Gordo, John, Mike, Broderick and staff. So if you want to do the time warp thing again, they will see you down at Boystown next year. Investitures - The Wedding. Well the Tasmanian Ballroom was the place to be on May 24. Little John and Serata had a mock wedding to announce they are and always will be Emperor and Empress 16. It was a wonderful evening with shows and titles bestowed. Our own B&B were honored with the official title of "Keeper of the Emperors Rhinestones". Quite the crown they built! Ryan & Terry with their stained glass makeup and leather crowns were fabulous. Broderick (Cardinal Sin) is this year's entertainer of the year. Hip Hip Hooray Girls!!!! We miss you Ms Stephanie, best wishes to you in the future and how's the weather back east? Children's Hospital Benefit - Sunday May 30 at Off Center Eatery & Bar! This yearly event raises hundreds and hundreds of dollars! The show was spectacular and the kids will love you for it! Way to go Nora, Carol, David and staff. At our own club May 16 - was fun! Glad to see you dust off your harp Amanda (the halo is next, hehehe! - Anne) Karen - you're looking better all the time. Great number Kris - even though you dropped half your beads on the floor! Great voice Graham, and as always, a big hug to those in the band! Have a great "June" at the coast - Ryan & Terry - we'll miss you...Hi Ethal! Thanks again to great service and friendship from those at Maddisons. Glad you're feeling better Roy. Happy belated birthday Kipp! Good luck on part time cooking Jacquell That's it for now gals....you gotta have some gossip - you got to use your head!

Terri and Amanda-----

long phone connection from the coast...finally she lands! We were all real thrilled to get to know her at the May meeting and nothing will hold her back from making to the Birthday Party in June! So that's the new gals...looks like we need to help some of these gals find their special femme "handles"! So come on down and meet the new gals on the block, there are some fun times to be had! Share and care!!! Lots of Love.....

Illusions Library

I would like to thank everyone who has been generous in donating information to our library. Now that Stephanie is gone for a while I (Jacqui) am taking over for her. The library is always open for those who want to drop by and look through it. We have been able to assemble one of the best independant libraris in North America and are always willing to have more donations to continue to enlarge our library. If you have any needs that the library could help with feel free to contact me and I will be more than glad to find what you might be needing. Items from the library can be checked out, but there is a small fee. A $2 charge will be taken at the time you check the items out and a dollar will be refunded upon the their return. The dollar retained goes into a fund which will help to ensure we can maintain the quality of the library as well as being able to enlarge it by sending away for items that we don't have. Prior to Stephanie's leaving, she and I were working on sending out our newsletter to various different organizations and

The Welcome Mat

Hi ladies!
With summer coming on in a "bright" way, we're slowing down with our new members list. We lead into our new, p-p-p-ls with #151 - Frank, she's been in/out of her hobby since she was 13 years old and finally decided to come on board with us. Work priorities keep her out of town a bit but hopefully she'll be out more often. #152 - "John". We encourage her to come out to meet all the gals. I know she'll feel comfortable. #153 - "Phil". We welcome her here and even though she's just out of town, hopefully she'll come in for a party! #154 - Charlene! After a year asking in return to have them send us their news letters. Your $1 library fee will go towards postage and maintaining contact with our fellow sisters around the world. We have been trying to assemble a directory so that wherever you may go there will always be a contact with whom you could touch base with and enjoy a night out with. Once again thanks for all the donations and keep them coming! Jacqui

All about Rita #99

H girls! About a year ago I bought an Illusions news letter and after reading it I phoned Barbie and joined the club the next day. Since then I have gone to socials as often as I could and LOVE crossdressing, meeting others who do the same, entertainment is great.

Barbie, Bryan, Marsh & others who make Illusions go are doing a super good job for us! Thanks for making me feel at ease with my feminine self.

I am a 48 year old heterosexual, 5'5", "undertall for my weight" TV who has had a fascination for girls clothes as far back as I can remember. From 8 yrs to 14 yrs I tried on my mothers girdle & dresses when the opportunity came. After looking at the guns in catalogues, I would spend a lot of time looking at girls clothes, imagining me dressed that way. I skipped about ten years or so. I was married at 23 and on very rare occasions I borrowed my wife's panties or slept in her nightgown when she was out of town; went to one or two Halloween parties dressed as a girl.

In late 1990, TV urges are getting strong. Why not enjoy it? I like my feminine side!! For Christmas 1990 I dropped some hints for a polyester or silk night shirt or pyjamas - No Luck! So, I bought a pair of girls PJs. For Valentines I bought a silk nightgown for my wife and matching PJs for me (love that purple). She's starting to think I'm strange. Becoming a feminine as possible a couple times a month or more is a real help to deal with the stress of my male world.

Last November she caught me wearing her panties & pale pink polish on my toes I admitted I was into crossdressing; now her sister and our doctor know. She was astounded to learn crossdressing is not as depraved and evil as a lot of people think, from the psychologist. It has pretty well become #2 problem to deal with. After 3 months I am back to club socials. She still does not understand, neither do I, but does not object as much as before. It would have been a lot better to deal with it years ago. Keeping it a secret probably hurt her worse.

Last Xmas I was in the Bay, tried on several wigs & bought one. 3 or 4 times now, I went to Value Village and tried on skirts & blouses to buy. I picked 1 or 2, wandered around some and used the men's change rooms, don't think anyone noticed, no one said anything.

Still trying to get the nerve to have my picture in our paper.

Rita (#99).

NEWS

The Travel Column!!

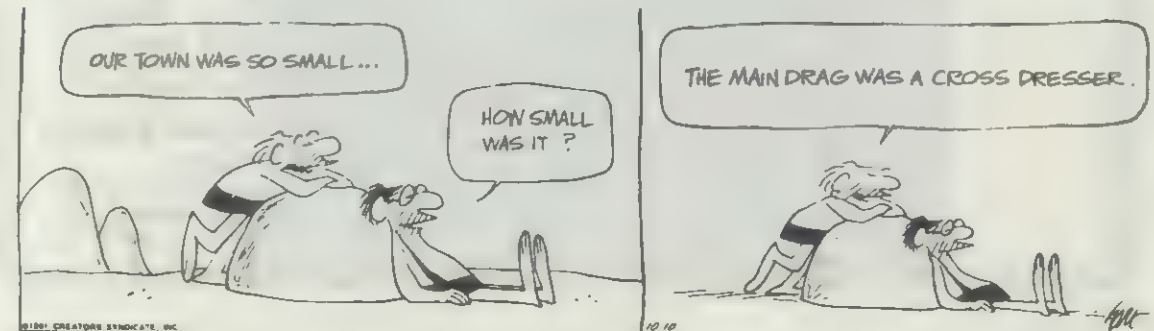

Well a new addition to the paper!!

With this column we are inviting our travelling members to review places they have been. I am going to start this column out with a review of Spokane Washington. This month I visited Spokane for the MR/Mz Gay Pageant held there. For Hotels The Redpath Hotel is excellent and courteous. The Lincon Center Motel is good also. For Bars Spokane boasts three safe bars to go to. 1) JS PUMPS N415 Monroe, Spokane a very nice tavern {Beer and Wine} Has Disco, Darts, Pinball and Pool. The owner is a former Edmontonian and very friendly to us. 2) Buddies 415 West Sprague Ave. A full service bar with food available with dancing. 3) Demseys Bar a restaurant, lounge, combined with a disco upstairs is the last bar in town. It is the newest bar very nice. All these places are great fun I have been down to Spokane twice in the last year and have had a great time there they have two major functions a year and both are well worth it.. Now a mute point is "Crossing the boarder With you clothes" Well it's no problem if the find your goods then admit to them being yours. They can not cause you any problem {Customs} if you tell the truth. So if you are checked admit to being a TV if you don't they can tear you apart under the suspicion of smuggling for if you try to play games with these people they have the full support of the law on their side. And I travel across the boarder often and have been caught by customs and have had no problem explaining my female clothing away. So there it is the first instalment of travelling. If any of you have reviews send them in!!

Optical "Illusion"

In putting together a wardrobe the goal with your clothing is to accentuate the positive and camouflage or cover up the negative. By creating an optical "illusion". You can practically reshape any part of your body just by selecting the right garments.

To start with, colour plays an important role in creating optical "illusion". Dark colours decrease size and light colours increase size. The colour can be applied to accessories as well. Light coloured shoes will make a narrow foot appear wider. If you have a larger than desired waistline and feel you must really wear a belt, try to stick with a darker thinner one or preferably one whose colour blends in with your outfit. Knowing what colours are best for you is important too-- not only for the look you project but for the way you feel. To get a general idea of which colours are right for you, drape a large solid piece of beige fabric next to your face- then replace it with a piece of white fabric. What's the overall impression do you receive??

If you look best in the beige fabric colour you probably have a warm coloured complexion- in the white colour a cool toned one. To determine whether a colour is warm or cool, see if it looks warm, glowing (not bright) and earthy. It's probably warm; if it looks cool sedate almost forestry in feeling- it's probably cool.

The second in optical "illusion" is "line". To look slimmer wear clothing that has vertical lines to it, instead of horizontal lines which tend to widen. Examples of vertical lines are vertical stripes and buttons; belts are horizontal lines. Square necklines will make a person appear larger busted; so will round necklines. However deep V necklines will usually make the bustline appear flatter. Necklines can also emphasize or disguise certain face shapes. For instance if you have a square face you'll want to stay away from square necklines. Instead wear more rounded necklines. If your face is long and narrow, you'll want to wear rounded necklines and minimize length. If your face is round, that's when a V neckline will help by adding length to your face.

Hemlines are another area where this concept applies. Generally the longer the hemline the slimmer you'll look. Lengths above the knee tend to cut you visually in two, therefore making you appear shorter and wider.

In the area of shoes, short heels will make slim legs look fatter and high narrow heels will make legs appear slimmer.

Accessories is the icing on the cake for the complete look. Remember to keep the colour of your accessories within the same colour family. If you are wearing gold coloured jewelry..don't mix it with silver.. it looks tacky!!

Be the best you can be. Keep on learning, changing, improving, practising and enjoying.
You are Beautiful!!
